In addition to the December 2014 determination, the panel determined to add the following: All requests for PRP will be sent for peer review.

December, 2014

Based on review of current literature, recommend that the use of PRP be considered investigational and not medically necessary for all indications. Any requests for use by a provider will be considered investigational and according to the Wyoming Workers' Compensation Rules & Regulations, Chapter 10, Section 19., (the provider)...will submit to the Division a comprehensive review of the medical literature. This review will include at least two good prospective, randomized, placebo-controlled, double-blind studies.
